Character Traits

Do you know someone who always smiles and says hello to you and your friends?

Would you say they are a friendly person?

Being friendly is one trait of that person's character. It is a good trait.

Someone who is not friendly and never smiles might be called unfriendly. Being unfriendly is a bad trait.

Directions: Look at the character traits at the bottom of the page. Which character does it belong with? Write each character trait in that character's box.
