Directions: In each pair of glasses, explain/define/or show examples of that point of view. When you are done, identify what point of view The Widow's Broom is written in. Provide an example from the text to support your answer.

The narrative is able to tell the thoughts and feelings of one character.

The narrative is able to tell the thoughts and feelings of many characters.

The Widow's Broom is written in 3rd Person Limited.

I know this because the story uses she, her, they, he in the story. I know it is 3rd person limited because the emotions and feels are from Minna Shaw only. The book mentions when she felt frighten or what her inner thoughts were.
